This book is our backward glance as we prepare to leave WYHS. With bittersweet emotions we look on the past which has just ceased to be the present, and at the same time we are looking forward, half wishing that we, like Athena, goddess of wisdom, could possess the gift of foreseeing the future.

During the few years that he was in the Whitehall school system, Mr. Wallick made many long-lasting and faithful friends. He possessed the qualities of humor and devotion to whatever endeavor he undertook. It is with sincere gratitude and deep appreciation that we, the staff of the Aries, dedicate this yearbook to the memory of Mr. Leonard Wallick.

Administration

Seated on his throne high on Mount Olympus, Zeus, the chief, reigned over the gods of ancient Greece with an iron hand. Although he ruled his kingdom of mythology with strictness, his decisions were always backed by wisdom and justness. Our administrators, from behind their earthly desks, exercise the authority and judgment necessary to the welfare of the school throughout the year.

"While the preparation of the school yearbook is not considered as a formal part of academic training, few people would disagree that the organization of such a publication requires very real skills as well as considerable effort. In reality such a publication becomes the laboratory in which much of the previously acquired knowledge can be applied.

Thanks, then, are due the students who have given so much of their time in the preparation of this 1960 edition of the school annual. By your efforts the people of our community will have not only a concrete example of the various activities that have transpired during the school term, but also evidence as to how well you have acquired the academic training so necessary to your future success."

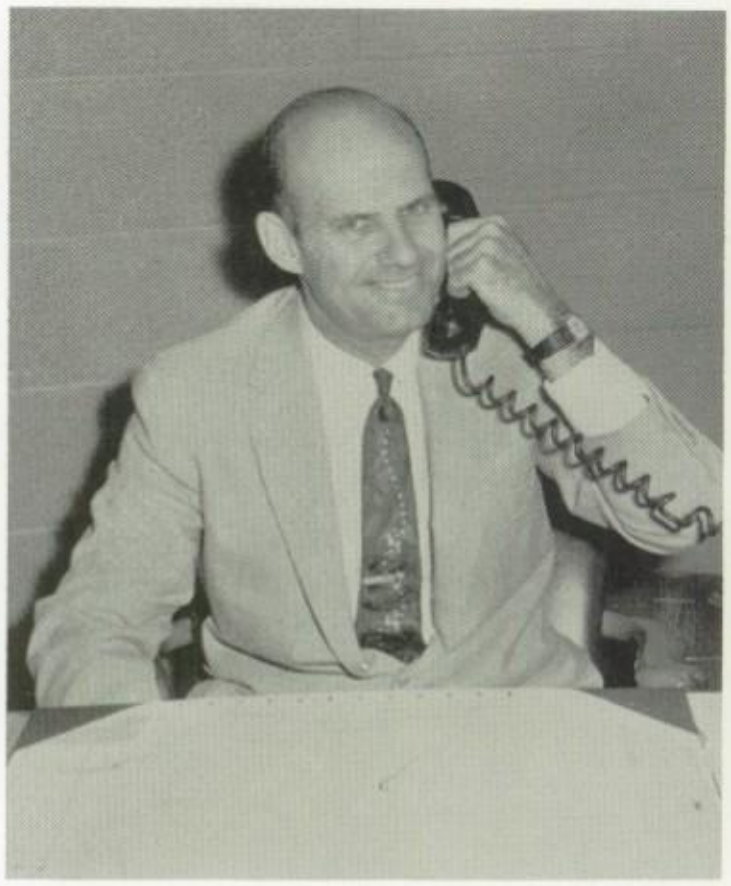
MR. CRABBS

"It is the purpose of the Whitehall Yearling High School to provide an opportunity for education of all the youth. The main objectives of our high school are: first, to provide a general education for all the future citizens; second, to provide good elective programs for those who wish to use their acquired skills immediately on graduation, third, to provide satisfactory programs for those people who will depend on their further education in a college or university; and fourth, to develop in our youth a love of and a belief in democracy. If in each succeeding year we can draw nearer to the attainment of these goals, we shall feel that our school is progressing toward success."

MR. PEEL

"Whether or not competitive sports belong in the educational curriculum is no longer an issue, it is an accomplished fact. The problem today is how to bring about a common understanding of how athletics may serve the entire school. It is my belief that our athletic program and our winning football team this year have been a prime factor in our over-all good school spirit and that this spirit has created a closer relationship among students, faculty, administration, parents, and our city of Whitehall."

MR. SHICK



Board of Education

This is Mr. Gilbert Johnson's first year as curriculum director. He came from Alexandria, Ohio, where he was an elementary school principal.

Mr. R. S. Blosser has been in the Whitehall school system for twenty-eight years and has been director of child accounting and attendance for the past three years here at Whitehall-Yearling.

Mr. Walter Olpp is clerk for the Whitehall Board of Education. The board's main project this year is the six-room addition to the Beechwood School, which is to be finished by June 5, 1960.

In charge of business affairs and federal aid is Mr. John Shumaker. He was principal of East Main Street School until he took over his present job in 1953.

Mrs. Luella Compton, Dean of Girls

In the five years she has been at WYHS, Mrs. Compton has been quite active. After a year here as teacher, she became dean of girls. Mrs. Compton also organized the Student Council, of which she is sponsor.

Mr. John Steele, Dean of Boys

Before becoming dean of boys, Mr. Steele taught math and coached the varsity basketball team.

He enjoys fishing but says it is unusual when he catches anything.

At the present time he is at work on his master's degree.

His summers are spent going to school, playing softball, fishing and selling fences and storm windows.

Mr. CcConagha made quite a change when he went from the choir room to the guidance office. He feels, however, that he did not make so complete a break with creativity as one might imagine, for he is certain that in counseling WYHS students he is in a field fully as creative as music.

Mr. Ralph McConagha, Guidance Director

Mrs. Doris Hooker

Mrs. Betty Trott

Mrs. Betty Stultz

Mrs. Mary LaRue

Whitehall has one group of behind-the-scenes workers whose services are absolutely indispensable. Whether they are front-office secretaries, PBX receptionists, payroll and file clerks, or private secretaries to the administrators, these office employees perform numerous tasks essential to the smooth functioning of the school system.

Miss Doris Poth

Mrs. Lois Walters

Mrs. Grace Sallee

Mrs. Dorothy Hunt

Mrs. Bishel, our dietitian, graduated from Ohio University with a B. A. in Science. She worked at Mount Carmel Hospital as a dietitian and for the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction before coming to Whitehall. She has been here at WYHS for two years.

Our cooks spend most of their daylight hours in the kitchen, preparing food for us. Few pupils realize how many carrots have to be sliced, how much bread has to be buttered, how many potatoes have to be peeled, or how many fish have to be slivered for fishsticks for our hot, n o u r i s h i n g lunches throughout the year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hauss, the Whitehall public school nurse, has been with us for four years. She took her nurse's training at Grant Hospital in Columbus. Before coming to Whitehall-Yearling, she worked at the Franklin County Board of Health for seven years.

If our janitors and maintenance men would suddenly not come to school for a day, who would do the innumerable jobs which we take for granted? Who would clean up spilled chemicals in the chemistry lab or hunt tape for the girls to hang signs with or cut the grass or lime the football field or put in playgrounds or build cabinets or keep the school in such good order?

"Have Bus, Will Deliver" has seemed to be the motto of our bus drivers for the past year. And deliver they do, straight through rain, snow, sleet, and sunshine!

Students will agree that one of the most welcome sights in the world on a cold, blustery morning is the approach of the familiar yellow bus with its cheerful driver inside.

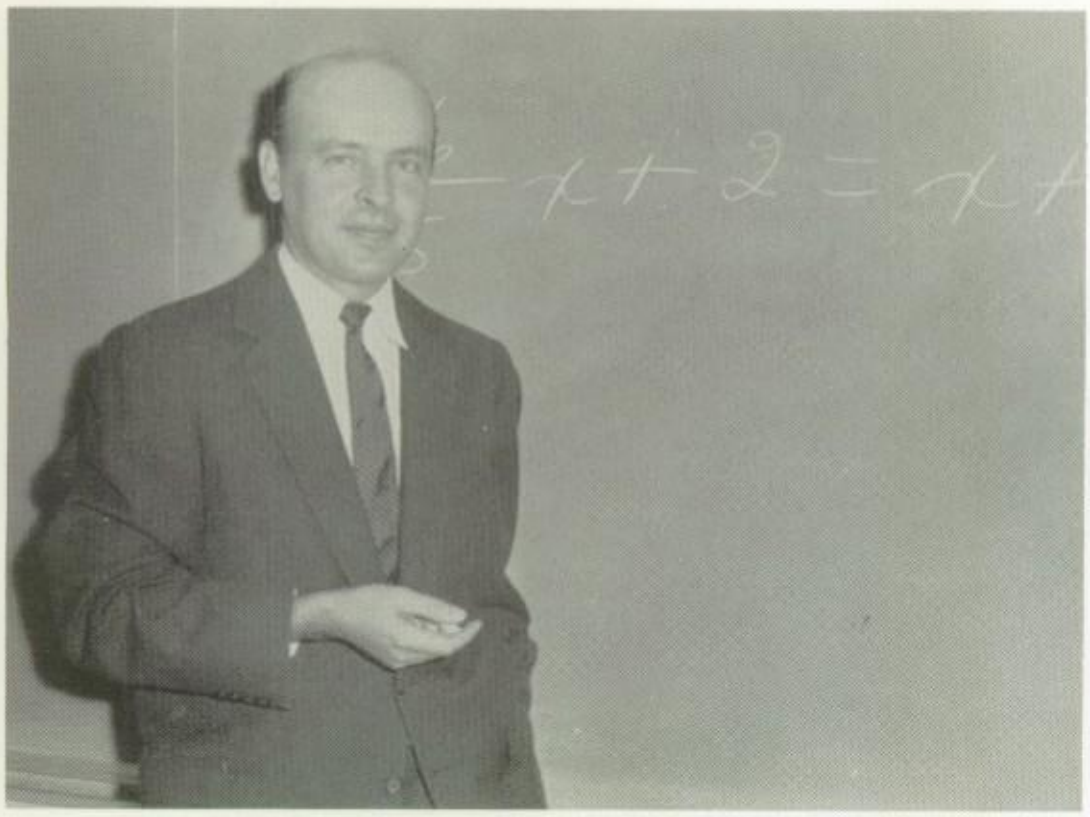
Faculty

As messenger to the gods, Hermes was noted for his swiftness in delivering the messages for his chief, Zeus. He acted as the mediator between gods and mortals. So are the members of the faculty like Hermes, for they receive the recommendations made by the administration and pass them to their students in the classrooms.

Joan



MR. JAMES ACKLEY, Mathematics

From his college career, Mr. Ackley remembers mostly the exams.

When asked if there were anything particularly interesting about himself, he said that he received the lowest exam mark, twelve points, ever to be given in the Spanish department at the University of North Carolina.

He enjoys fishing and hunting.

Mr. Ackley has traveled throughout Europe.

MR. ROBERT ADDISON, C. O. E.

Mr. Addison is looking forward to a two-month tour of the West this coming summer. On the trip he will certainly make use of his knowledge of photography, which is his hobby.

When asked what he thinks of the school and the students, he replied, "I think we have one of the finest student bodies I've seen." He then added that the students are "a fine bunch of kids."

Mr. Banks is married and has two children, of whom he is quite proud. As a teacher of biology and general science, he thinks that a student should have a great interest in what he is studying, especially if it's biology or general science!

Mr. Banks is quite a shutterbug and has carried his camera with him on many of his travels throughout the United States.

MR. WILLIAM BANKS, General Science and Biology

During his college career, Mr. Barton enjoyed his salesman and advertising classes the most.

For outside enjoyment he likes to play golf.

MR. JOHN BARTON, Distributive Education

Mr. Bell, who is in charge of the audio-visual department, owns a television, radio, and hi-fi equipment store with his brother.

Now teaching English, Mr. Bell would some day like a chance to teach speech, his college major.

In the summer he can be found tramping the golf course or fishing. Some summer in the future he would like to travel to South America to dig up ruins.

MR. DONALD BELL, English and Audio-Visual Director

MR. JAMES BLINE, Physical Education

Coach Bline, who feels that the qualities of a good student are good attitude and self confidence, is a physical education teacher.

He is a great water skiing fan and is co-owner of a boat with Mr. Peters.

He particularly prizes his football films and is always willing to run a special showing for anyone interested. He is very proud of the C. B. L. championship football team this year.

Mrs. Blose, who is a new member of the staff this year, has one husband, one child, and one dog.

For enjoyment she likes to sew, but she can remember one occasion when sewing was not pure pleasure. She had to stay up all night in order to finish a coat which was due the next day in a sewing class.

She also enjoys traveling. Once she and her sister saved enough money to tour Scotland and England together.

MRS. RUTH BLOSE, Home Economics

MRS. VERA BUCK, English

Just watch Mrs. Buck's face light up when you mention her home in Wisconsin. She spends her summers there with her husband, who is a chemistry teacher.

She thinks that a speech course would be very valuable to the students if it were required.

Her idea of a good student is one who has the ability to find inspiration in the ideas of others, willingness to work hard and steadily, and intellectual curiosity.

Mr. Carter, who last year taught wood shop, has now made a big change by moving to the mathematics department.

His hobbies are carpentry and fiddling with automobile parts. He has also remodeled his home several times.

He is married and has three children, two boys and one girl.

MR. KENNETH HARRIS, Business Courses

Asked what he would like to be if he could be anyone in the world, Mr. Harris said that he would like to be a retired millionaire.

He thinks that a teacher should have a genuine interest in the students and be well prepared if he is to do a good job.

Teaching keeps Mr. Harris busy using his favorite possession, his knowledge.

When Miss Harsh was first asked what her hobbies were, she quickly replied, "Sleeping!" Then she went on to add that she enjoys swimming and horseback riding in the summer, and going to plays and reading in the winter. She can also be found playing with her prized white German shepherd.

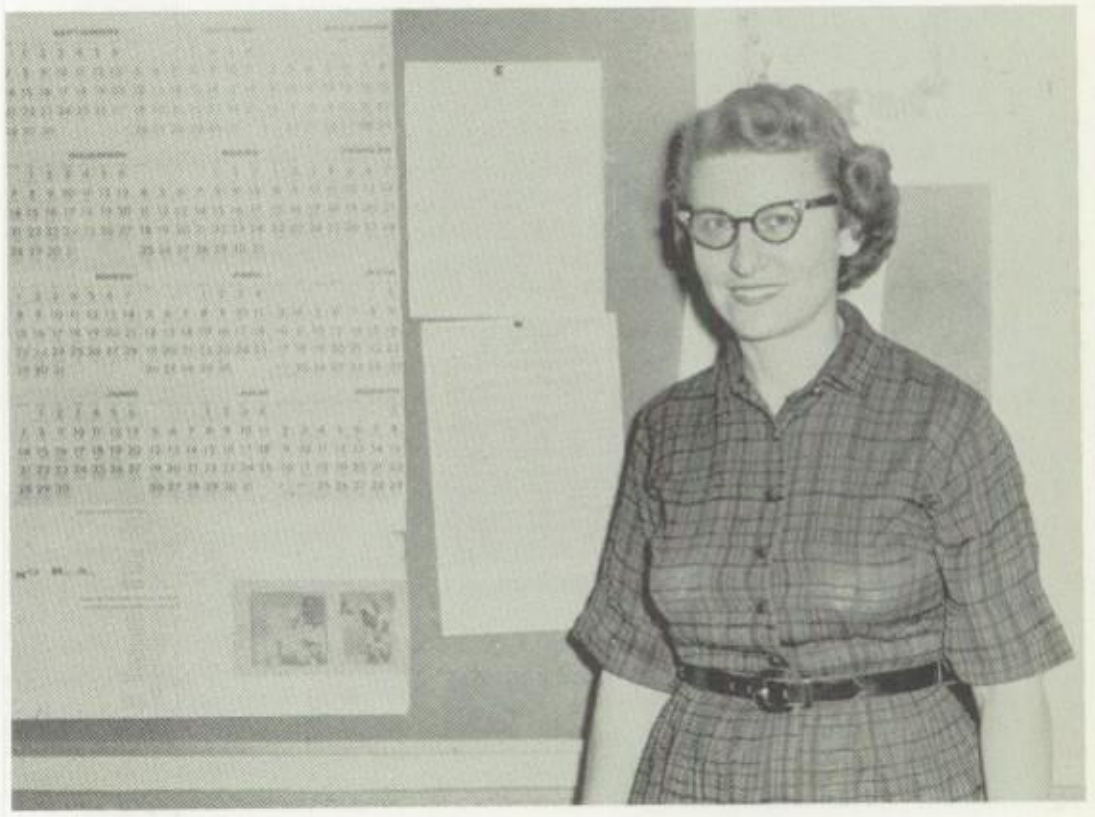
While in her senior year at Ohio University in Athens, Mrs. Hudson took three languages—French, Spanish, and Italian.



MRS. JUNE HUDSON, Spanish and English

Mrs. Hunt's big job since the death of her husband has been the bringing up of her three children. One of her hobbies is reading, and she says she has plenty of books to read.

Her requirements for a good student are curiosity, persistence, and attentiveness.

He went to college on an American Legion Scholarship. He has traveled to Disneyland with his family and would some day like to extend his travels to Hawaii.

During his high school years Coach Peters played on the football and basketball teams.

This summer he and Mr. Bline attended the University of West Virginia. They also bought a boat which they use for water skiing.

MR. JOHN PETERS, Driver's Education

MR. JAMES POE, History

Mr. Poe, who has traveled in the Pacific area, Europe, and the Caribbean, is now planning a trip to Spain. Of the places he has visited, he would like to live in Switzerland.

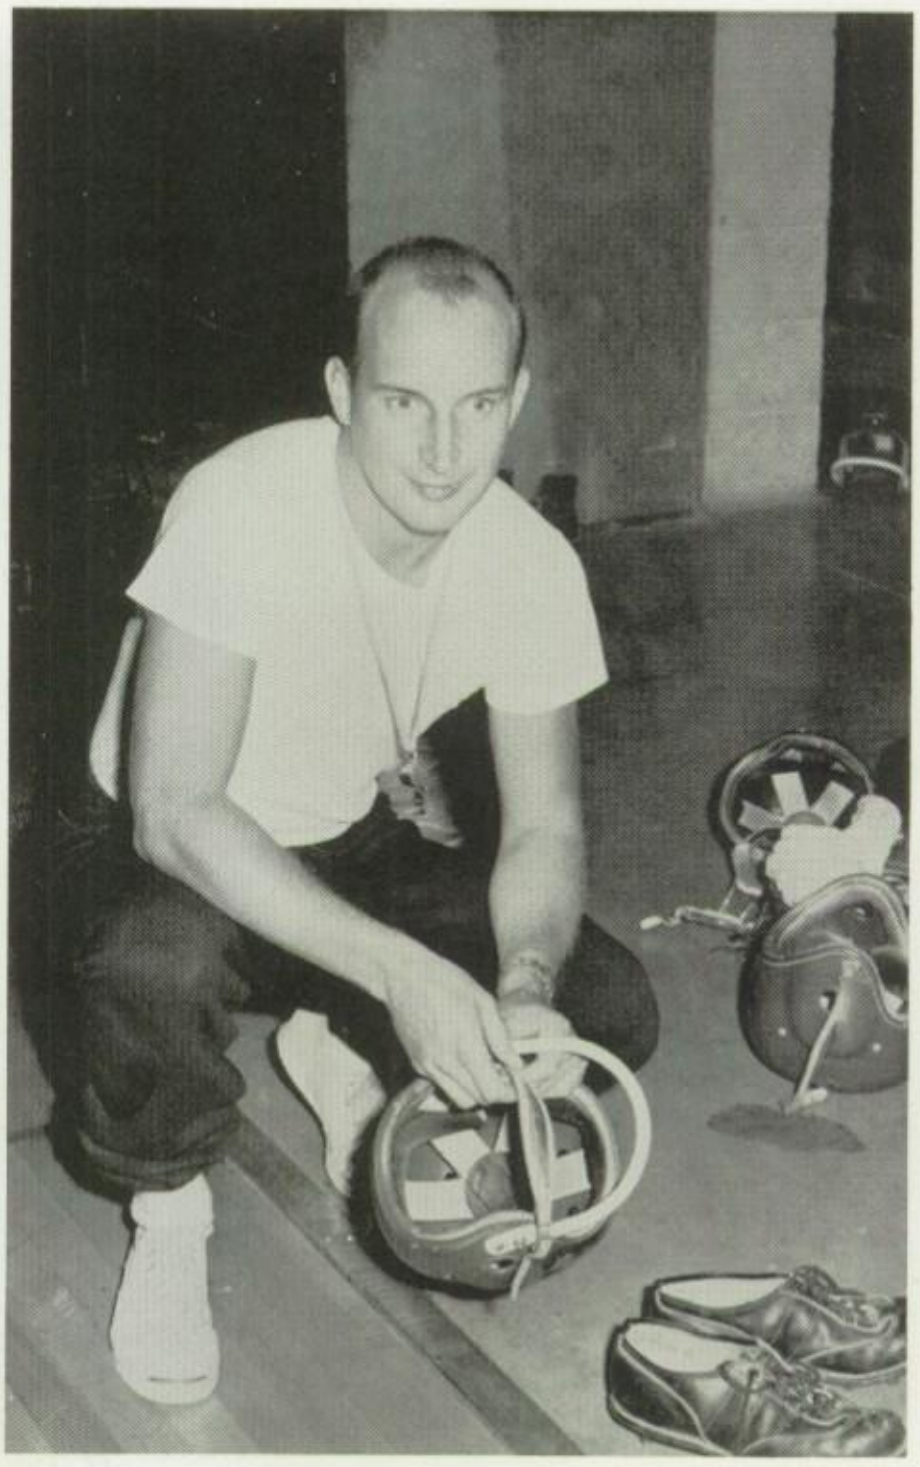
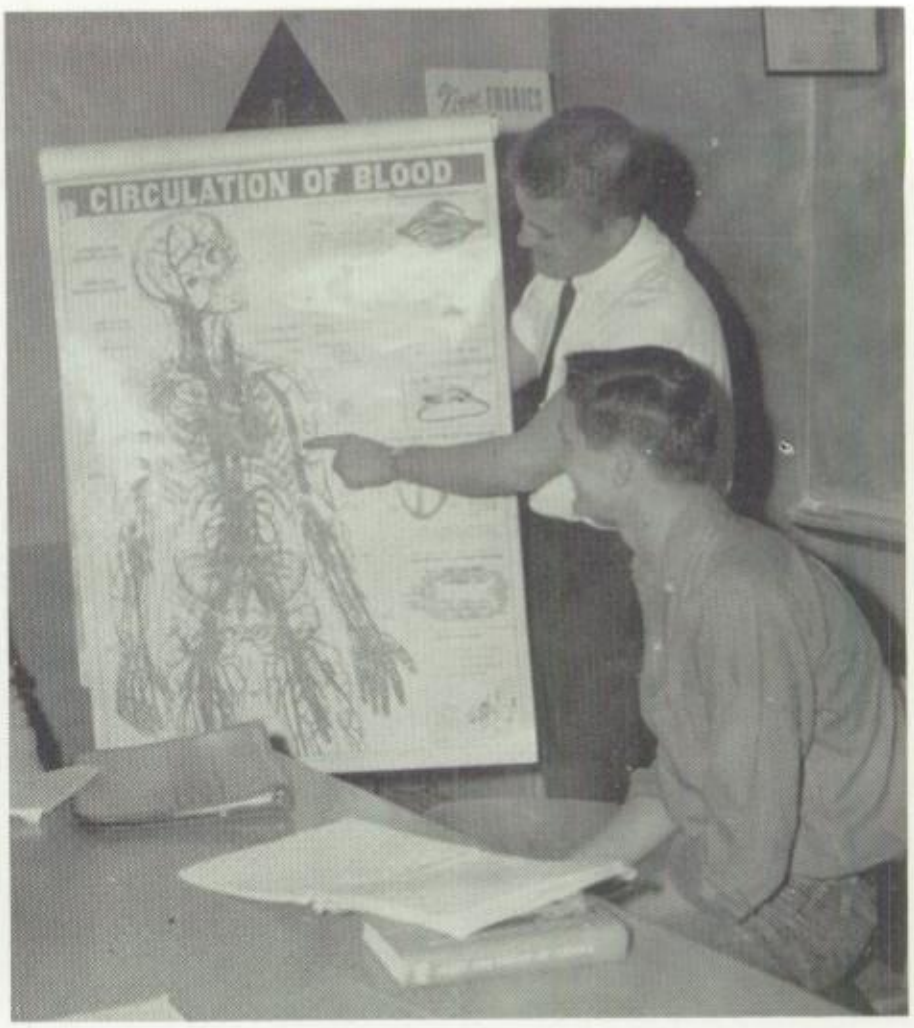
One of his great satisfactions came when the five-year-old senior band went to Ashland and received a superior rating in the state.

Why so solemn over the autopsy of an apple?

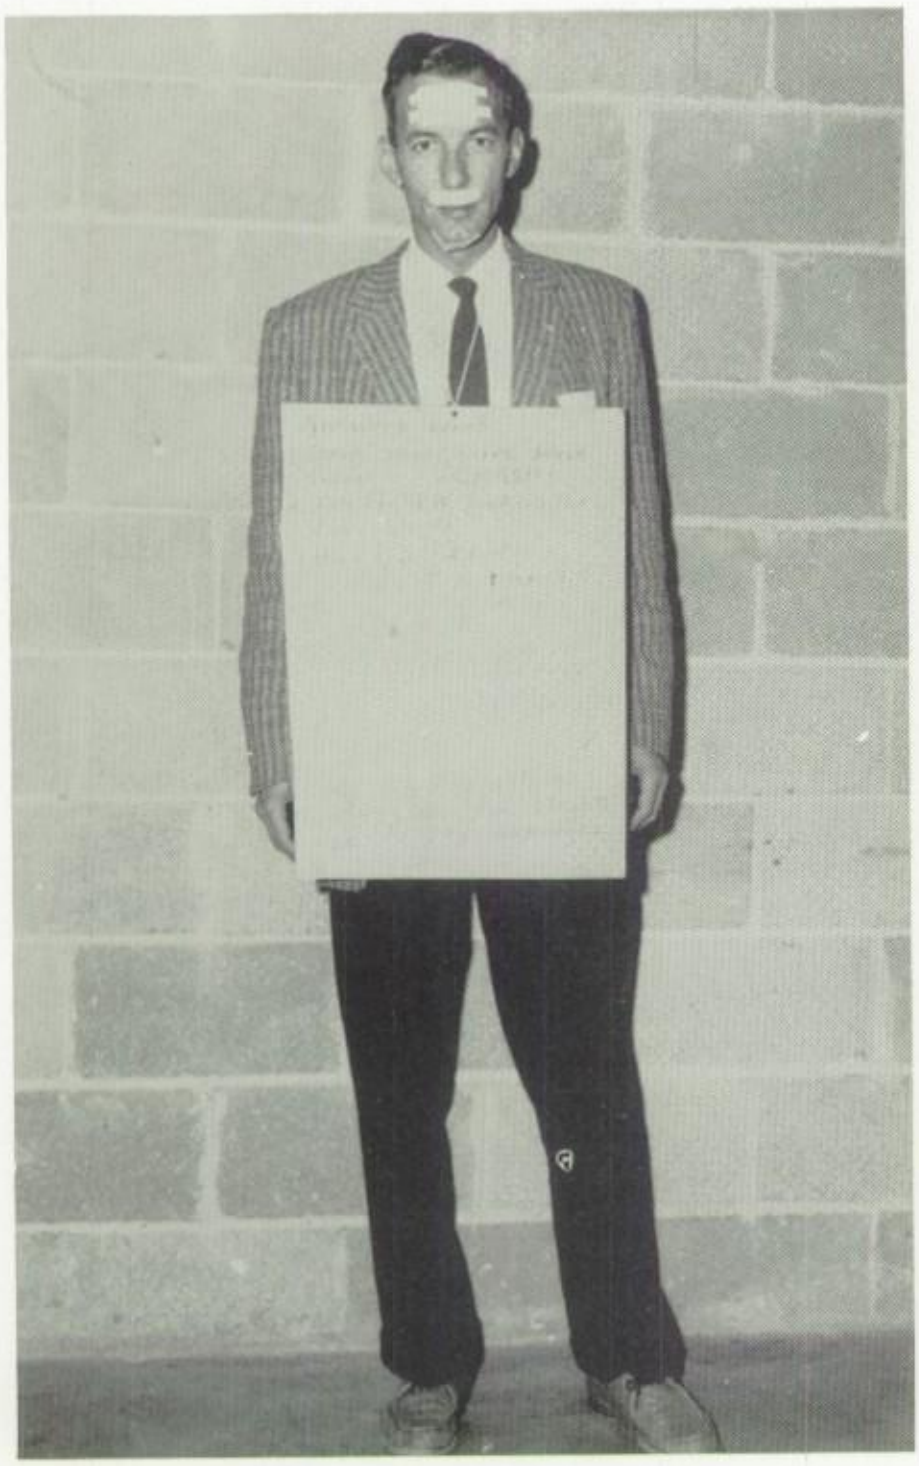


Are you sure that you are thinking about football?

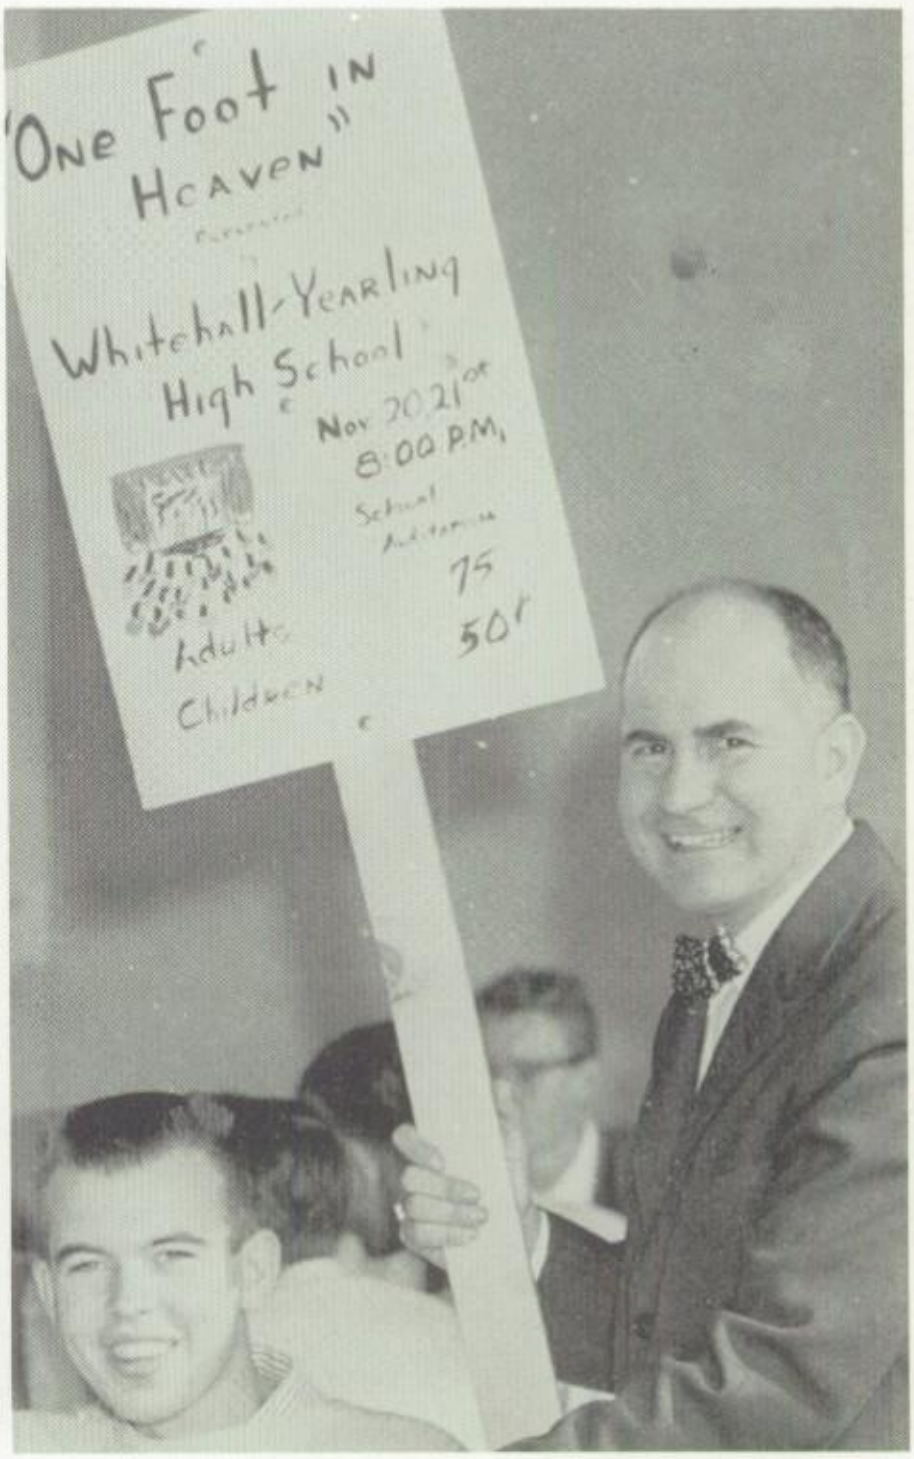
You know you aren't supposed to go to your lockers between classes.



Don't feel so bad; we all look like this.



Did you say your favorite possession used to be your Volkswagen?



Only two more left! Get them while they last!

Classes

To remain eternally young as did Hebe, the goddess of youth and cupbearer of the gods, may be the wish of some, but it isn't the wish of the underclassman. For three long years he waits impatiently for the time when he can reach the lofty height of senior and assume the privileges that accompany his exalted status.

DON JUSTICE, President
WESLEY ORR, Vice-President

JUDY YEAKLE, Secretary
BOB LEONARD, Treasurer

The Junior Class, under the able guidance of Mr. Tykodi, got an early start in planning projects which they undertook this year in anticipation of the biggest prom Whitehall has ever had.

Because of the large number of students in the class, the need arose for homeroom representatives. One was selected from each of the seven junior homerooms. These representatives, along with the four class officers and Mr. Tykodi, willingly gave up one free period each week to meet the various problems arising from the many activities. The planning of new and different fund-raising events occupied a great part of the time.

Class rings were received in the early part of December, and for a week following one could not help knowing of their arrival, because hands were flying everywhere. Somehow one got the impression (though we know that they are all alike) that each ring was markedly different from anyone else's.

Freshman Class

TIM DARIN, President
SANDY JOSEPH, Vice-President

MARSHA BRANDTLEY, Secretary
SYLVIA ORR, Treasurer

Instead of waiting until their senior year to choose their class flower, motto, and colors, the Freshmen, under the advisership of Mrs. Compton, chose these symbols this year. The class made the choices early in order to use the symbols in various activities throughout their high school career.

At the beginning of the year, the Freshman Class set two goals. The first was the determination to be promoted with the highest scholastic standing in the history of the school. Secondly, the class, in selecting its motto, agreed to try to fulfill it before graduation.

The Class of 1963 is well ahead of all the preceding classes in raising money which will be spent very rapidly during their junior and senior years. One source of income was the Froshmore Dance, the proceeds from which were divided between the sophomore and freshman groups.

Janus was quite an appropriate choice for the task of guarding the gateway to Mount Olympus because he was able to look two ways. He symbolizes the end of one era and the beginning of another. Our graduating seniors, who look back on four busy years with nostalgia, realize that Commencement is the doorway leading from heedless years of youth into adult sobriety.

King of the Print Shop, Rick Neutzling.

Cast members in full costume advertising the fall play.

FIRST ROW: Jan Cobryn, Vice-President; Gary Joseph, President. SECOND ROW: Linda Gray, Secretary; Mr. James Poe, Adviser; Phyllis Justice, Treasurer.

"Seniors at last" was the cry of one hundred and seventy-five students when they returned to school last fall. With their exalted station came many privileges such as being able to eat lunch at the senior tables in the sun, to take POD and English IV, to surprise the faculty with various special days like "Senior Cut Day," and to generally inspire emulation from underclassmen.

Under the direction of Gary Joseph, President; Jan Cobryn, Vice-President; Linda Gray, Secretary; Phyllis Justice, Treasurer; and James Poe, adviser, the class motto became "Money, Money, Money!" Numerous ideas, which included shearing the ram and selling his wool, cutting down West Virginia Christmas trees and hauling them back to Whitehall to be sold, or sponsoring special sock hops after football games, were presented at class meeting or to the officers personally. In spite of the ridiculous nature of some of the suggestions, the seniors were able to augment the treasury enough to purchase a gift for the school and to have a senior party.

Looking back on four years at Whitehall-Yearling, seniors recall not just football and basketball games, parties, club meetings, and fun but also four years of attending classes, doing homework, and cramming for exams to attain the final goal. Although there are mixed emotions on graduation day, everyone will agree that the years at WYHS will remain an unforgotten memory.

National Honor Society

There is one day each year which will be remembered forever by the outstanding members of the junior and senior classes — the day of the National Honor Society assembly. At this time juniors and seniors who have excelled in scholarship, character, service, and leadership are chosen for membership in the organization.

This is one of the highest honors which a student can receive. With all honors and positions there goes a certain amount of responsibility. The responsibility of these students is that of maintaining their high standards and promoting the development of such standards in their fellow students.

The three active members remaining from the 1958-59 school year operated a coat check and sponsored a sock hop to raise funds for the pins given to the new members.

Sports

Ares, who was resplendent in shining armor and invincible in battle, is a fitting symbol for our athletes. Unlike the god of war, who always had to remain victorious, our sportsmen are confident, as they go out to begin a contest, that their fans and supporters are behind them, win or lose.

These men made our team great: Mr. McMillin, Mr. Georgeff, Mr. Bline (head coach), Mr. Allen, Mr. Kane, and Mr. Peters.

Determination, desire, and ability characterized the 1959 edition of Whitehall's fighting Rams. Again mentored by Mr. Bline, the Black and White compiled a record of 6-0-3, garnering for themselves the top position of the Central Buckeye League and a high regard in Central Ohio grid circles.

Whitehall received additional laurels when Rick Neutzling, Gary Catalina, and Don Justice were placed on the All-Central Buckeye League offensive team. Along with them, Gary Joseph, Bob Carson, Charles Poe, Bob Winship, and Bob Hutchinson, attained first berths on the All-C.B.L. defensive team. Rick Neutzling, Gary Catalina, and Charles Poe also were named to first place positions on the All-District team. Also obtaining honors was Coach Bline, who was named Central Ohio "Coach of the Year."

The season opener found the high spirited Whitehall team pitted against the Warriors of Eastmoor. The first impression of many was that both teams were evenly matched. Late in the third quarter the Rams came alive and ended a 69-yard drive with a tally by halfback Catalina. The Rams went on to score again in the fourth quarter, ending their first game with a 12-0 win.

The "Cat" moves.

Fresh from their win over Eastmoor, the Rams next traveled to Reynoldsburg to down the Purple Raiders 43-0.

For their league opener, the now rolling Rams journeyed to Worthington to face the impressive Cardinals. Early in the game the Rams showed their champion-like form by scoring on a quick pass from quarterback Rohm to Joseph. Again in the second quarter the Rams drew blood, climaxing a 72-yard march with a touchdown by Gary Catalina. The Rams' rock-ribbed defense held Worthington throughout the second half, ending the game with a 22-0 victory for the Black and White.

A Golden Bear caught in time.

With upset on their minds the Hillclimbers of Urbana traveled into Whitehall for the fourth game of the season. Taking advantage of Whitehall's earlier mistakes, the Hillclimbers scored early in the first quarter. Not to be denied, the Rams fought back and tied the game in the second quarter 7-7. Each team hit pay dirt once more before the game ended in a 14-14 tie.

The fifth game of the season paired the battling Rams with the Bobcats of Grandview. The half-time score stood at 7-6 in favor of the Rams, but early in the third period the combination of Rohm and Neutzling began to click, accounting for three touchdowns in the 34-6 romp over Grandview.

All-CBL.

Pardee opens the way for Winship.

The Rams traveled to Bexley for their next game. A fired-up Lion team was downed on its homecoming night by the Rams, 7-6.

The Yellow Jackets of Mt. Vernon invaded Whitehall for the seventh game of the season. Matched evenly, both teams scored only once in the first half. Opening the second half with one of the most talked-about plays of the year, the Rams scored from the 45-yard line. The Yellow Jackets fought back in the last quarter and scored on a great carry by quarterback Don Harkins. The game ended in a 14-14 tie between two great teams.

Holding the first place berth of the CBL, the Rams visited Delaware, which occupied the cellar of the league. Playing in sub-zero weather, the red-hot Rams blasted Delaware 22-8 for their sixth victory with no defeats.

With half of the championship cake in their possession, the fighting rams were matched in their last game against the Golden Bears of Upper Arlington. The Black and White needed only to defeat or tie Arlington to be the sole champions of the CBL. Neither team could manage to score in the first half. The second half was a direct repeat of the first.

Did his back really itch, Don?

A rose among the thorns.

Both teams threatened, but neither scored. The Rams' defense, led by linebackers Gary Joseph, Don Justice, and end Bob Carson, who together compiled eighty per cent of the Rams' tackles, held the Golden Bears on the 10-yard line in the last minute of the game. The Rams, then taking possession, ran out the clock. The game, ending in a 0-0 tie, climaxed the greatest football season yet enjoyed by Whitehall.

Their powerful offense, led by Rob Neutzling, compiled a total of 210 points, while the defense ceded only 42 points to their opponents. Over a four-year period Coach McMillin's junior varsity has collected a record of 31 wins with only 4 defeats.

Junior High Football

Gaining valuable experience that builds future varsity players, Whitehall's junior high team, consisting of seventh and eighth graders, ended their 1959-60 football season with a record of three wins and three defeats. The junior high players were coached by Mr. Peters and Mr. Kane.

The Rams, led by Coach Moreland, had a fairly successful season with seven wins and seven losses in the Central Buckeye League, ending in fourth place. The fighting Rams were led by spirited basketeers — captain Gary Catalina, Rick Neutzling, Ken Merriman, Bob Adams, and Tom Rohm. The Black and White also had a good bench to back up the starters. These boys, consisting of Ron Neutzling, Bill Gornall, Bob Russell, Dave Dildine, and Jim Kelly, answered the call to duty when needed.

Pride in the wrestling team is reflected on the faces of coaches Bline and Peters.

The effects of the wrestling team's fine performances were evident during the 1959-60 season, when more people than ever took an interest in wrestling. Returning with two boys who took second and third place in the state meets last year, the grapplers brought their season to an end with only four losses and with three men remaining undefeated. In the two invitational meets of the season at Upper Arlington and at Whitehall, Whitehall placed first and second, respectively. At the end of their superb season, they went on to the district and state meets with the good wishes of their loyal fans.

Throughout 1959-60, the Whitehall varsity and reserve cheerleading squads attempted to promote school spirit to back the football and basketball teams. A little disappointed at times with the crowds' lack of enthusiasm, they braved on, trying to do their best. The girls practiced twice a week the first semester and once a week the second, taking turns at being captain for one month. One of the chief responsibilities of the squad was to plan the pep rallies with the help of the reserves.

Clubs

Iris, with her multi-colored rainbow, closes the gap between heaven and earth. Somewhere in the school program there must be a bridge between the academic field and the varied areas which occupy the students' interests. Our clubs are this link. These organizations are formed on the students' own initiative and hold their meetings after school. Thus, the person who joins a club must be willing to give his own time and effort for the welfare of the group. In doing so, he develops character, individuality, and the ability to compromise.

Missing deadlines, losing pictures, hunting pictures that were never taken in the first place, running out of copy sheets, and mislaying complete sections — these are the ingredients in the life of a yearbook staff. In spite of these complications, there emerges each spring a symbol of several months' work. What a miracle it seems to see at last the mountains of erasure-marked copy sheets transformed into a finished book. The sight of the professional looking cover and the glossy pages goes a long way toward erasing the disappointments, the frustrations, and the anxieties that are part of assembling a yearbook.

Homecoming

On this night many faces familiar to the upperclassmen but perhaps just a bit vague to the freshmen appeared in the crowd at the Urbana-Whitehall game. The grads were back for homecoming.

According to the precedent set last year, five senior girls had been nominated by the football team. From these five the students had chosen their queen.

The air was tense as the Urbana and Whitehall teams cleared the field for the half-time ceremony which would reveal the identity of the as-yet-unknown beauty. After being escorted around the field in five gleaming convertibles, the candidates alighted and took their places in front of the band. Then, while the spectators sat in hushed suspense, last year's queen, Linda Trees, placed the coveted crown on the head of surprised and happy Faye Tootle.

Sock-Hops

I know he's here. I saw him.

The teen-ager of 2000 A.D. may have to have the term "sock hop" explained to him, but to the present high school student, the words stand for one of the best fund-raising devices yet discovered. Throughout the year clubs and classes held dances at which hundreds of youngsters dutifully kicked off their shoes before stepping out on the gym floor, thus saving wear and tear on the wax job. These hops were usually held after games; so they brought in not only WYHS fans but also students from other schools, much to the delight of the treasurers of the sponsoring organizations.

Although there was snow on the ground and it was the dead of winter, thirty girls and their coach boarded a bus for swimming at the Jewish Center every Wednesday for three months. Under Coach Georgeff's guidance, the girls learned how to dive, kick and swim backwards. Even though they didn't compete against another school, they all agree that they had fun while learning something useful.

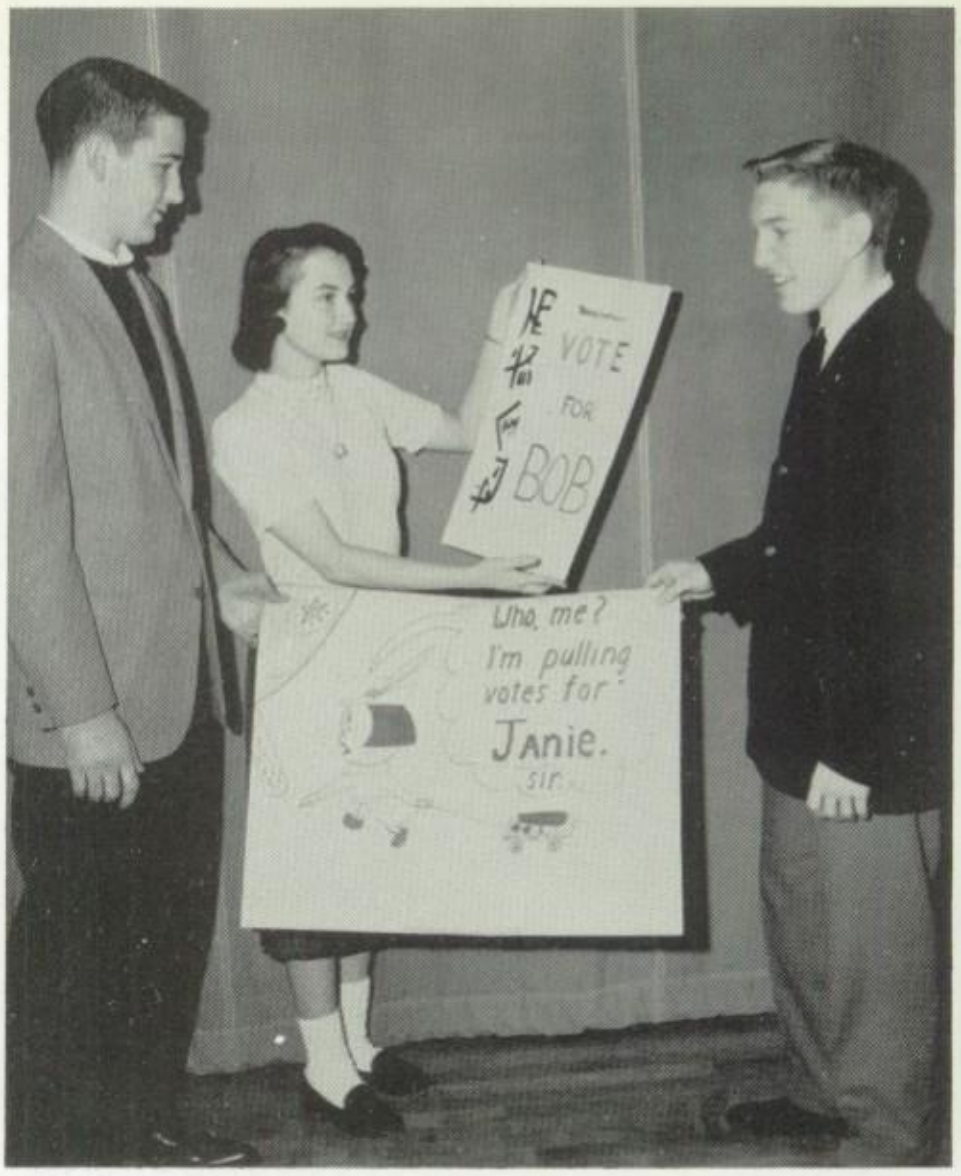
Student Council Election

In true political form, the four candidates for the office of Student Council president made posters, recited slogans, and generally tried to sway votes their way. On the morning of the election the campaign managers introduced each of the candidates to the student body via the P.A. system. Later in the day, while representatives from the P.O.D. classes manned the polls, properly registered students cast their ballots.

The following Friday at an assembly, the new president, Bill Gornall and the vice-president, Bob Leonard, were inducted into office by the outgoing president, Nancy Sherman. Surprise of the morning was the tape recorded farewell speech of Joel Pardee, former president, who had moved to Colorado shortly before the election. To close the impressive ceremony, Sharon Wells and Ted Moore lit the traditional candles which signify the aims of Student Council.



The candidates examine one another's campaign signs.

One Foot in Heaven

The cast takes a bow after a successful presentation.

Minister and doctor confer on pecuniary affairs.

One Foot in Heaven, a play with a nostalgic, turn-of-the century flavor, was the major dramatic presentation this year. Alternating laughter with a trace of tears, the play revealed the tribulations and the eventual triumph of a minister and his family as they attempted to establish themselves in their new parish.

No trip to the Conference for the Reverend Mr. Spence.

"This is good for breathing." Quote from Mr. Neikirk.

In answer to many questions—yes, the cooks do eat their own cooking.

These tireless workers belong to the audio-visual crew.

Advertising

The businessmen represent the wealth of our community, just as Disrepresented the wealth of ancient Greece in myths. Of course, our merchants don't come swooping down on the city in roaring chariots but use more subtle means of advertising. Because they realize that students are potential customers, and because they like to promote school interests, many business people place ads in school annuals. To them — our thanks for helping make this book possible.
